

Kedartal Trek

The Kedartal Trek is beautiful and challenging in the Indian Himalayas, located in the state of Uttarakhand. This trek offers a unique combination of stunning mountain scenery, serene glacial lakes, and challenging terrain, making it a popular choice for trekkers. Whether you're a seasoned trekker or just starting, the Kedartal Trek is an experience you won't want to miss.

Duration: 6 Days

Maximum Altitude: 4600 meters

Grade: Moderate to challenging

Best Season to go: June to September

Region: Uttarakhand, India

Group Size: 10 to 12 people

Cost: The cost of the trek varies depending on the season and the size of the group, but a typical cost for a 6-day trek ranges from INR 10,000 to INR 15,000 per person.

Short-Itinerary:

Day 1: Arrival in Uttarkashi (Altitude: 1158 meters)

Day 2: Drive from Uttarkashi to Gangotri (Altitude: 3100 meters)

Day 3: Trek from Gangotri to Chirbasa (Altitude: 3600 meters)

Day 4: Trek from Chirbasa to Bhojbasa (Altitude: 4100 meters)

Day 5: Trek from Bhojbasa to Kedartal (Altitude: 4600 meters)

Day 6: Trek from Kedartal to Gangotri (Altitude: 3100 meters)

Detailed-Itinerary:

Day 1: Arrival in Uttarkashi (Altitude: 1158 meters)

Arrival in Uttarkashi, transfer to the hotel and check-in. You can explore the city and visit local temples and ashrams.

Day 2: Drive from Uttarkashi to Gangotri (Altitude: 3100 meters)

, after breakfast, drive from Uttarkashi to Gangotri, the starting point of the trek. The journey takes about 6 hours and offers stunning views of the Himalayas.

Day 3: Trek from Gangotri to Chirbasa (Altitude: 3600 meters)

The trek starts from Gangotri, and the trail leads to the Chirbasa camp. The trek is relatively easy, with a gentle ascent through rolling meadows and deodar forests.

Day 4: Trek from Chirbasa to Bhojbasa (Altitude: 4100 meters)

The trail from Chirbasa to Bhojbasa is challenging, with steep ascents and descents through rocky terrain. The highlight of this day is reaching Bhojbasa, which offers stunning views of the surrounding glaciers and peaks.

Day 5: Trek from Bhojbasa to Kedartal (Altitude: 4600 meters)

The trail from Bhojbasa to Kedartal is one of the most scenic sections of the trek, offering stunning views of the surrounding glaciers and towering peaks. The trek involves a steep ascent and requires a certain level of physical fitness.

Day 6: Trek from Kedartal to Gangotri (Altitude: 3100 meters)

The final day of the trek involves a descent from Kedartal to Gangotri, passing through the same route.

Inclusions:

Accommodation during the trek (camping)

All meals during the trek (breakfast, lunch, dinner)

Transfer from Uttarkashi to Gangotri and back

Permits and fees

Trekking guide and support staff

Exclusions:

Personal expenses such as snacks and drinks

Travel Insurance

Tips for the guide and support staff

Any other expenses not mentioned in the inclusions

In conclusion, the Kedartal Trek is a stunning and challenging trek that offers a unique blend of adventure, natural beauty, and cultural richness. With its challenging terrain, stunning scenery, and spiritual significance, this trek is a must-do for any trekker visiting the Indian Himalayas.